A TIMELY MESSAGE FROM TOBIAS

A Time to Inspire

Tobias: And so it is, dear ones, we gather here on this special eve. I, Tobias, have to take a few moments to breathe the air, to smell the smells, to hear the beautiful sounds of earth. It is not so often that we get to do an event like this outdoors, with a group of humans who are so dedicated to this time that we live in.

So many of you think that we have it so good up there in the other realms, we don't have physical bodies, you think we can manifest anything we want at any time. In a way we can but it's just a form of imagining. A very, very strong form, but compared to being on earth, living in the human body that you have – there's nothing like it. We don't feel the breeze on our face like you can right now. We don't smell the food and the air like you can through your noses right now. There is such a joy, a beautiful joy to living and I, Tobias, am quite excited about it.

The greatest thing about living as a human is the joy that you can experience. Ah, I look out at you, longing for my return, longing to work with you, longing to bring forth the message to humans who are ready to hear it: You can enjoy life. You don't need to struggle with every little thing, you don't need to get mental, you don't need to try to figure it all out. The energies will serve you if you allow, they will free you so you can do what you want to do.

Each and every one of you chose to come back in this lifetime. It wasn't a mistake and it definitely was not karma that brought you back. It wasn't that you did something wrong in another lifetime. It wasn't even because there was some grand lover that you wanted to come back into this lifetime with. You came back because now, more than any time in the history of earth, now is the time that humanity needs inspiration. And that inspiration can come from you.

Right now humanity is going through the largest change in the shortest amount of time ever. Right now. Never before in the history of the planet Earth has so much been changing. This change will manifest in the next 25 years or even less.

THE NEW ERA

On September 18, 2007, we heralded in the New Energy era, the quantum leap of consciousness for humanity. We left behind the Christos era – the era of crystal energy, the era of the Christ seed energy coming to earth – and we brought forth the era of New Energy.

It started just ten months ago and since then your world has gone through quite a few changes – which will continue – and I see that these changes are having an effect on you. They frighten and worry some of you. You wonder “What is going on with this planet right now? Is it falling to pieces? Are we in the End Times? Are we going to destroy ourselves, whether through war or the environment? Have we reached the end of the line?” And for many of you it brings up a very hurtful memory of Atlantis. You loved Atlantis dearly and when it fell, you fell also, and that wound, that pain, is still carried by many of you.

You thought you could come back now and help to create the new Atlantis on earth. You thought you could come back and learn from the mistakes. Yet here you sit – not just this group here but metaphysicians and healers around the world – and you say, “Are we just repeating the past? Are we following the same footsteps that we followed in Atlantis? Are we going to destroy our earth and have to wait for a million or more years to start back over again?”

Let me tell you something also that all of you understand at a very deep and sometimes frightening level: as goes earth, so goes the other dimensions – the angelic realms, your spiritual and angelic families back “home,” the New Earth, where so many of the concepts of New Energy are being worked on right now, the other planets – as goes earth, so goes everything else. Everything.

So sometimes you get very frightened. You say, “What happens if we destroy ourselves with global warming or nuclear war? As earth goes, everything goes, so if this doesn’t work out where do we go next? What happens to the other realms and dimensions? Do they collapse? Do they go through their own type of annihilation?” It is a deep, deep fear that many of you have.

You have all of this coming up right now, in your hearts, in your minds. You look at the newspapers – when you can even bear to look at a newspaper – or listen to the news, even though sometimes it hurts, and you say, “What is happening with this planet?”

You see the financial markets in America heading downwards very rapidly. You see the problems with the environment changing the entire ecology of the world. You think to yourselves, “Are humans ever going to wake up? Are they going to be smart enough to put an end to this?”

You look at the politicians and wonder “Can one of them pull us out of this and get us back on the right path?” You see diseases like AIDS and cancer running rampant, with very few answers. Even what they call the treatments are almost as bad as the diseases themselves. So you go back to your home, to your quiet room by yourself and you wonder what is happening to earth right now.

You wonder if you can stand any more of the energy that you have been carrying. But you see, so many of your problems are not really your problems. You are carrying the problems of the world. You are feeling them and therefore you think they’re yours – and they’re not. Take a deep breath and let them go. They are not yours.

I’d like to take a moment to talk about what is going on in the world right now and why I am excited about reincarnating to the physical body on earth exactly one year from now. Oh, I am not coming back to be in the End Days but to be in the new days, to participate in the new times that are here on earth right now, and the potential of New Energy and new consciousness that is just now blossoming on your planet.

THE CHANGING WORLD

You could say that North America was the vision of the new Atlantis on earth. It was the place where many of you would come back and live to make sure that we didn't repeat the mistakes of Atlantis – if you want to look at them as mistakes. America would be the place that would call out for peoples all around the world, from the different nations and cultures and colors, to come here to create the new society. And that is exactly what happened.

Humans came here from all over the world. Many of them were your grandparents and great-grandparents, not so many years ago. The call to America brought some of the brightest minds, some of the most creative individuals, some of the best writers, some of the best leaders. They came here for the freedom, but they were really helping to create the new Atlantis. In a very, very short period of time America became the richest, the most powerful, the most dominating force of any government, ever, in the history of the world.

After World War II, America helped other countries to rebuild themselves. It gave to these countries so that they could build roads and bridges and schools. It brought forth values such as democracy, elections and human rights. It brought this to other lands – did not inflict it but offered it – and now you are seeing the effects of this all over the world.

You are seeing new countries rise up. There is a change in the world economic balance. You are seeing some of the grandest changes ever on earth taking place before your very eyes right now. There is a redistribution of wealth taking place. Oh, America is not losing its money, although many of you read the news reports and think that it's taking a nosedive. No, other countries are emerging and coming to the forefront.

The dragon, China, is emerging, actually bringing in some of the principles that it resisted for so long. Yes, it may appear to be occurring slowly, but historically it is happening at lightning speed. China is emerging as a place of new freedom for its people, as an economic force, and soon to be a new spiritual center. They will go through their issues and their conflicts. Saint-Germain says some of the changes in China will cause a type of civil war, but it's part of their process of joining the rest of the world.

You're seeing countries like India beginning to emerge after a long, long sleep. For so very long it has been such a wonderfully spiritual country, but the spirituality was kept at a distance from its human aspect. There was a reluctance to accept the body, to accept the material nature of life, and now that is changing as well.

All over the world change is coming about and it is nothing to be frightened of. The economic situation that America and many other countries are experiencing is necessary in order to rebalance and flush out some of the old systems that were not serving the higher purpose of humanity. This change is at work right now all over the world. Governments are changing. Believe it or not, education is changing around the world. So when you read the papers take a deep breath; it is just about change.

There is an evolution going on, even of the environment. Humans are becoming more aware than ever before about their relationship with the environment. Now you might read in the news about problems with global warming – and yes it is real – but more than anything that issue is bringing awareness of how to work with the natural environment of earth, of co-existing with it.

Gaia, the spirit energy of Earth, is leaving. Gaia is an entity, just like I, Tobias, just like any of you. Gaia is the angelic entity that came to earth, long before the rest of the angels, to bring life to earth that would create waters and trees and animal species. Gaia has done her job. It will take quite a while for all of her energy to return back to its Source, but she is leaving and now the responsibility for earth is coming back to the humans, back to each one of you. Humans don't need a caretaker of earth, humans are the caretakers of earth.

So when you read the news about the environment, global warming, pollution, remember it is bringing awareness about your relationship with this earth and your responsibility for it. Instead of panicking when you read the news, instead of thinking that it's a conspiracy or thinking that it's the End Days, remember it is truly about the new consciousness. Yes, sometimes the shock and the anxiety of some of this news is difficult to handle, but remember it's bringing a very important message to humans.

We know so many of you have been worried about the economy but what is happening right now is a redistribution. In the past there were a few countries and a few families who held the wealth, for whatever reason. For some it was power, for others it was simply ego, for others it was to see how much they could accumulate. Some held onto the money for issues of control, but now in the new consciousness, these individuals can no longer hold onto such an enormous amount of wealth, power or energy. It is time that it has a better distribution. We're not talking about a communist society, we're talking about an equitable society.

So you'll see that some of these old institutions that have had the money are going to have to change their ways or they will come tumbling down. Not because the angels on the other side are wishing them any bad, but because in the consciousness that is being created here on earth right now it just can't exist.

In recent history there have usually been a small group of countries that have been dominant, that have carried the power of the world, and through war and battle and domination have accumulated great lands and great wealth. None of those lasted very long. In the course of all history they have come and gone. But then, a little over 100 years ago, this little country of America emerged and in a very, very short time became the world power.

But it's coming to the point now where the world and human consciousness doesn't need a single power any more. There was a time, especially over the last fifty years, that there was a need for a nation like America that would have such a broad and expansive influence around the world that it could help stabilize other countries, stabilize wars, stabilize this whole entry into the new era. But now that is changing. There is no longer a need to have one country dominating the world affairs.

So in a way you could say that what is happening here in America is a sacred thing, a blessed thing. It is a release from the need to be the power in politics, in the economy, or in any other way. A redistribution is going around the whole world and there is a potential for every country and every person to have that freedom, to have the capability to be able to work with this New Energy. That is what you are seeing in the world right now.

Change can be difficult. It can be frightening, particularly when you can't see what's up ahead of you, when you're not sure if it's the end or if it's a beginning. But there are many, many, many angelic beings who are helping to monitor what is going on around the world. They know this is just a matter of change, a matter of evolution in the world.

There is no need to be frightened. When you pick up those papers and read about some things that would concern you, such as the economic situations or government situations, understand it's all part of the process of bringing earth into a new consciousness – and this is where you come in.

A TIME TO INSPIRE

You came here to be on earth at this grand time of change to do work different from most other people. You came here to help inspire the consciousness of humanity. As an individual you have taken on so many of the issues that earth is now taking on. You went through them first.

You went through your own financial change or crisis. You went through your own biological or environmental change, with many of your health and healing issues, learning how to heal your own body just as the earth is learning how to heal herself. You went through so many of the psychological issues with yourself, wondering who you are, doubting your self worth, wondering what you should be doing with yourself. These are the same issues that the rest of the planet is now going through – in their own way of course – and that's what you're seeing happening all around you.

The brilliant thing is that you went through it first in a very, very personal way, a very inner way, and now as the earth and humanity starts to go through it, you have the wisdom. You have worked out many of the issues already, you can be a Standard for other humans.

What humans will need as consciousness goes through these changes, particularly over the next 25 years, is people with vision. They will need people who are able to let go of the old ways in order to move into the new. They will need people like you who understand there are alternatives to healing and finance and governments and old ways of being.

It doesn't mean you need to stand on a stage in front of thousands of people. It doesn't mean that you need to run out tomorrow and start buying lumber so you can build a healing center. You don't need to evangelize anybody. It means that what is in your heart – what you have learned for yourself and all of this new consciousness and enlightenment that you've gained for yourself – it is now time to radiate that out to the rest of the world.

You can keep doing exactly what you've been doing, or you can do what you truly choose to do, but it means opening your heart and your consciousness and letting it now radiate out to the world. That creates a potential that now goes out into mass consciousness and is available for anyone who chooses to tap into it.

That potential goes out to the ones who are working right now on new energy to replace old fossil fuel energy, like you've used in the past. By the way, the answers are not in the wind or in the sun, those are temporary measures. There are some brilliant new energies that are available. They are free and non-polluting and they will be available to every human on earth. There are researchers and scientists who are working on new energy right now, and what comes from your heart and from your soul helps to bring it into reality. You don't have to know the formula for it, you just have to know the potential of it. It is there. It's there and you're going to see it in your lifetime.

When you open your heart and let it radiate out to the world, this higher consciousness now is available to others and it comes back in ways that inspire them. It comes back in technology. Technology follows consciousness, not the other way around, and when you share with the world who you are, when you radiate out your consciousness, it has the potential to cure AIDS and cancer. The answers are already there, they are floating around out in the ethers but they haven't been brought in yet. The doctors and the scientist haven't gotten that 'aha' moment. But as you open up your consciousness and share who you are, it provides the inspiration that comes back to them. And does it matter to you if your name is the one associated with the cure for cancer, or just that you helped to create the consciousness to make it happen?

This is the time to inspire consciousness on earth and this is why you're here. You didn't come here just to raise kids, to own a business, to work through your karma or anything like that. You came to earth to be here as a Master. You came here to radiate a new potential, to help inspire consciousness in a world that is changing very, very rapidly.

Aliens aren't going to come down here in their spaceships and provide the answers. You are. When you open that heart of yours, so filled with lifetime after lifetime of experience – and now with so much spiritual consciousness; when you let that radiate out into the buildings, through the towns and out into the farmlands, that is the inspiration and the new consciousness that goes out and creates the changes. It can be picked up by other people who are inspired in themselves to make these changes.

This is not a time to run and hide. This is not a time to worry about conspiracies. This is not a time to be critical. It's not a time to be judgmental or create fear and end-of-time scenarios. This is a time to inspire, to be who you are, to share it with the world and watch the changes.

You sense and feel energies at a deep level within you. You feel things much more than other humans and you are also feeling these changes taking place. Some of you are taking this into your physical body, most of you are battling it in your minds. You're feeling what's going on and sometimes it throws you off. Sometimes you get into the doubt energy. You get into the fear energy. You want to run and hide. You wonder what's taking place on earth.

I'm going to ask you to rise above that. Or better yet, stand behind the short wall! Understand the earth is going through the most phenomenal changes it's ever gone through. We are now ten months into the New Energy. You've seen what's happened in ten short months. Some of you are amazed at the changes – some that maybe you would not consider to be so positive – but there is a reason. There is a purpose. Earth is evolving right now and you are part of it.

I come here to remind you, on a very personal level, to enjoy life. There is nothing like it. Enjoy being a human. And I come here to remind each one of you that now is the time to inspire. Open up your hearts, open up your consciousness and let it flow out into the world.

And so it is.
